

THE BEATLES

Norman A. Bier B.D. Sc. (Melb.), L.D.S. (Vic.) dental surgeon, one of the dentists who used to practice at 64 Station Road during the 1960s, was approached by the four Beatles while they were staying at the Beresford Hotel one summer and asked to replace all their amalgam fillings with gold fillings.

John Hutchinson was the dental mechanic who had to make the fillings for the 'Famous Four'. John recalls the Beatles chatted to him while he was making the fillings for them.
