

KENNELS

In 1969-78 Miss Rosemary J Samuels ran boarding kennels for dogs and cats at Five Acres, Shottendane Road. Her kennels were known as 'Birchington Boarding Kennels'. She lived in a house in Epple Road, but must have been lodging there, as she is not listed under either the Residents section or in the Street Directory of Kelly's Guides.

In 1964-5, in Canterbury Road at the corner of Epple Road there was another set of Kennels run by J. Riley, called 'Bletchingley Kennels'. These kennels bred and specialised in the care of Afghan Hounds. The kennel maids were often seen taking as many as 7 or 8 dogs out at once as they walked the dogs along the cliff tops or the promenade and beaches below.
